

Jack Is Yet Alive

Shetland

The image displays a musical score for the tune 'Jack Is Yet Alive' in the key of D major (one sharp) and 2/4 time. It consists of three staves of music, each with a corresponding whistle fingering diagram below it. The first staff includes two first endings, labeled '1' and '2'. The whistle diagrams use a system of black dots (finger down) and white circles (finger up) to indicate the correct fingerings for each note. The diagrams are arranged in vertical columns, one for each note in the melody. The first staff's diagram has a 'D' below it, indicating the starting note. The second and third staves also have 'D' below their respective diagrams. The music is written in a treble clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#).
